

Environmental Policy

---

Gold Corporation accepts that it has a responsibility to the community and future generations to conduct its activities, as far as reasonably practicable, in a manner which minimises its impact on the environment.

Gold Corporation is committed to understanding how its activities, products and operations align with global efforts to move towards a more sustainable use of the planet and its resources. With this in mind, the company seeks to continually enhance its contribution to the ultimate objective of sustainable development.

To achieve this, Gold Corporation shall:

- Ensure all workers are fully aware of their environmental responsibilities and that they take reasonable care to avoid adversely impacting the environment through any act or omissions at work.
- Continually review and improve our environmental management system to enhance performance.
- Provide adequate training and information to enable all involved to make informed decisions to support and communicate effective environmental management practices.
- Meet its legal and compliance obligations.
- Set, achieve and review measurable objectives and targets, inclusive of minimising and preventing pollution wherever possible.
- Effectively manage and investigate all environmental incident occurrences and ensure that practical management and rehabilitation practices are adopted.
- Manage and reduce waste through life cycle analysis.
- Commit to protecting the environment.
- Make available the resources necessary for these actions.

This policy will be communicated throughout the organisation, to ensure all employees understand the individual commitment that is required to achieve our environmental goals.

Jason Waters

Chief Executive Officer